

A 4x16 heatmap visualization showing the distribution of 16 different types of errors across four categories. The color scale ranges from dark blue (low frequency) to red (high frequency). The second row shows the highest frequency of errors, particularly in the middle columns.